LINDFIELD GOLF CLUB

VETERANS SECTION

On the course

Sad to report some vandalism on the course.

The greenkeepers had worked hard to present the course in perfect condition for the return of the College. However, the evening before their return some presumably local ne'er-do-wells sprayed range balls all around the course and took divots out of several greens along with other deliberate damage.

The greenkeepers had to carry out emergency repairs using some creative methods before the students could play their first round at Lindfield.

Please keep on thanking the greenkeepers for their efforts. They really don't need the extra work!

The excellent scores keep coming (for some) so let's enjoy the last bit of sun.

Please replace divots, rake bunkers & repair pitch marks.

Inter Club Matches

A second defeat of the year as we lost 4-2 at Cuckfield. One more match to go at Horam on the 9th. Currently Won 4, Halved 1 & lost 2.

Captain 2025/26

There are still six months to go before the AGM but Vet's members need to start thinking about a Captain and Vice Captain for next year. It is really not that onerous as the Committee will give you all the help you need and some 'willing' volunteers have taken on roles to organize many of the competitions. The captain's post also provides an opportunity to support a charity that may be close to your heart. Please feel free to speak to me or any Committee member about the role if you feel that you could be our next Captain.

Why Do Some Golfers Cheat?

"Most cheaters are highly competitive people with narcissistic ego structures. They're driven to maintain an image of power and control at all costs," says Tobias Schreiber, a retired professional therapist from the South Carolina Department of Mental Health. "At heart, they suffer from an underlying sense of inadequacy."

Rule 1.2a Conduct Expected of All Players

All players are expected to play in the spirit of the game by:

- Acting with integrity – for example, by following the Rules, applying all penalties, and being honest in all aspects of play.
- Showing consideration to others – for example, by playing at a prompt pace, looking out for the safety of others, and not distracting the play of another player. If a player plays a ball in a direction where there might be a danger of hitting someone, they should immediately shout a warning, such as the traditional warning of "fore".
- Taking good care of the course – for example, by replacing divots, smoothing bunkers, repairing ball-marks, and not causing unnecessary damage to the course.
